

MMO PEOPLE BETA

Nowadays, billions of people play online games all around the world, there is a new need, to keep themselves communicated, up to date of what their friends are playing. Social networks have brought a brand new way to share your life on the internet, where your friends or even everybody can check latest news happen in your life. MMOPeople mix them both, share your online gaming experience by using Facebook, the biggest social network, you can create your favorite characters by choosing game they belong among our huge supported games list, join your guild or create your own one, share your experience, chat with your friends or find new ones, you can even find old Pals you left behind in a previous game.

The best part comes with the deep and detailed features, you can link your characters to your Facebook account, which will allow your friends to find you through your characters or vice versa, or if you want to hide that naughty rogue, you can do it, so your character will be there but no one ever will find who is its player.

You can create a detailed profile of your character, from standard race/class info to extra info, like a biography, and a social profile where you can choose your play style through custom icons, you can upload your own avatar, and change it whenever you want.

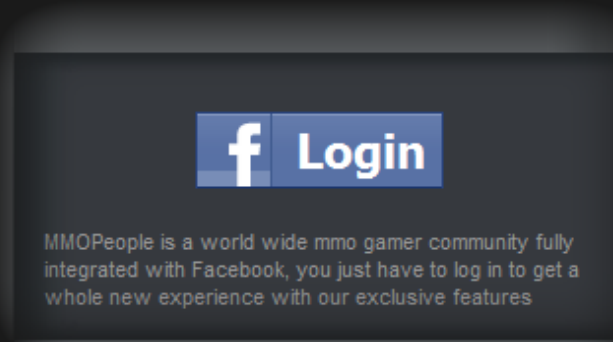

Talking about guilds, you can set your guild's logo, info, recruitment, and more, you can even set calendar events, which will appear for its members or everybody depending on its privacy settings, there is an integrated Rank structure where every Rank has its own permissions.

There is a built-in notification system, which will keep you up to date about friendship and guild invitations, but the most Handy feature appears when you have characters and just log in, it will show you on your home screen latest news related to your characters.

QUICK GUIDE

Log in using your Facebook account

First of all, you have to log in by using your Facebook account, you can do that from the main page's login button, or the one located on the upper right corner of every page.

Type your login and password in the facebook login window and accept the permissions prompt in order to get the best out of the website.

Create your first character

Now you're logged in, you should create a character to begin to share your gaming experience, click the "helmet and plus" button located below your Facebook account information on the upper right corner, fulfill the form, in seconds you have created your first character, it's that simple, now you can edit and add extra info to your character at any time you want.

A screenshot of a "Create new character" form. The form is titled "Create new character" and includes a close button (X). It contains the following fields:

- Name:
- Class:
- Race:
- Gender:  (dropdown arrow)
- Game:  (dropdown arrow)
- Server:
- Server Type:  (dropdown arrow)

Below the form is a toggle switch for "link to Facebook account?" with the "Yes" option selected. At the bottom is a large red button labeled "Add Character".

Invite friends

Maybe you found an old friend or just want to make new ones, all you have to do in both cases is to click on the "add friend" button located on the upper right corner in a character profile, the character's owner will receive the invitation and can accept or

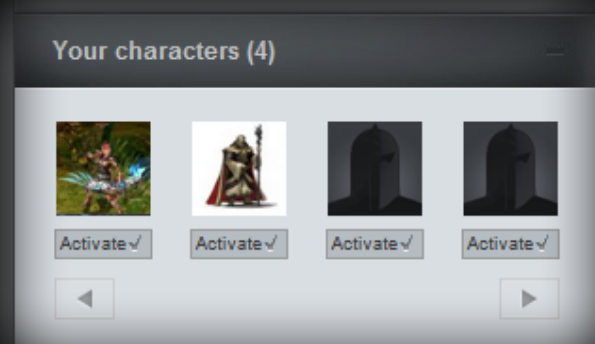

You will be able to see your characters' friends by visiting their profiles, they will appear below your character's preferences and info.

Yepayaja	Knights Of Good	Cazador/Elfo	47 XP (75%)
Fruitis	Knights Of Good	Picaro/Enano	42 XP (67%)
Ungala		Shaman/Tauren	31 XP (49%)
Rascaeggs	Knights Of Good	Druida/Tauren	22 XP (35%)

Active characters

Once you have more than one character, you can freely select the character which you are going to perform all your actions along the website, in order to do this, you have to scroll down and click on the "activate" button below your character portrait in "your characters" menu.

Create a guild

Once you have created your characters, if they are not lonely riders, you can choose whether to create a new guild or join an already created one. In the first case, you can click on your guild actions bar, just below your active character actions bar, there you will find a "shield and plus" button, remember to select the active character you want to make the new guild leader, which will lead you to the guild form, fulfill and submit it and you have created your first guild.

Update and add information to your guild profile

Just as you did with your character, if you are in a guild, with enough rank, you can find different buttons, this time you have to click on the "shield and gears" one, which will take you to the guild info form, you can now fulfill it by entering general info, recruitment, voice chat, fc

Invite guild mates

Ok, it is time for you to invite your guild mates. All you have to do is visit their character profiles and invite them to your guild, by click on the "invite to guild" button on the upper right corner.

They will receive a guild invite that, once accepted, will link them to your guild with the lowest rank. You just have to promote them to their current in-game rank for them to take their usual roles.

Guild related actions

As previous step, you will be able to perform this actions only if your active character has enough rank within the guild. Go to your guild profile, in the member's section, you will find promote, demote and kick buttons along each character's row, just click the button you want.

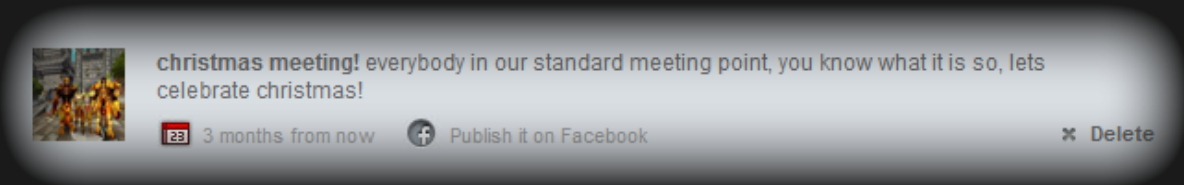

Members (7)
Name	Class/Race	Experience	Rank
ArkTholen	Human/Warrior	49 XP (78%)	Rank 5
Mahnthan	Wizard/Fairy	13 XP (21%)	Rank 4
Ramanten	Archer/Human	25 XP (40%)	Rank 4
* Squishky	Assassin/Werebeast	9 XP (14%)	= Rank 3
* Pelotax	Human/Mage	11 XP (17%)	= Rank 2 +

One of the most interesting features among the guild ones, is the event system, if you have enough permissions, you can create private or public events, just by clicking the "calendar" button located in the guild actions bar, fulfill the new form, and accept it.

A screenshot of a "Create event" form. The form has a title "Create event" and a close button (X). It contains the following fields:

- Name: A text input field.
- Date: Three dropdown menus for day (08), month (09), and year (2010).
- Time: Two dropdown menus for hour (17) and minute (00).
- Description: A text input field.
- Private: A toggle switch labeled "Private" with "Yes" selected.
- At the bottom, there is a large red button labeled "Create guild event".

The event will be shown at the top of the guild news until the scheduled time has passed, visibility of the event comes determined by choosing private or not, private meaning only members. You can create several events, and they will appear as their dates come closer.

Comments

In an overall way, once you have an active character, you can comment on every profile you see, just by scrolling down to "latest news" area and typing your message in the comment text box. It will appear in the "latest news" wall among other comments and actions.

Latest news

Every action made, every comment written, and almost every single thing in the whole site, appears on the "latest news" area of the target/source profile. You can filter latest news by comments, actions and all together by click on the upper right corner buttons of the "latest news" area.

Once you have created characters and you just logged in, you will find a new latest news area which will gather all info related to your current characters, and just above it, a notification area where you will find friendship and guild invites.

Searching friends

There is a search feature where you can search the whole site for characters or guilds, at the top of the website you can see a text box labeled "Search", you just have to type the desired text and press ENTER or click the "search" button and you will be taken to a search result page. If you require a more precise search, head to a game profile first, and then use its search boxes, guild and character to find what you are looking for.

My favorites menu

Thinking about MMO players, we realized that they use to have several characters along several games, so found quite useful to have a favorites bar, where you can access easily to your characters, their guilds, games and even to your Facebook friends on this site. Scrolling down a bit, at the right, you can find all this menus, just click on the "plus" button or the header itself to see its content. Remember you have to create characters and belong to guilds in order to get to this menus.

XP Bar & Skills

You will find several RPG elements along the website design, from our skills like social preferences system to our XP bar. This last one will indicate your activity on the website. It will increase with every single action you make, so you want to keep it up because we plan to reward the effort of our most active players from time to time.
